Accessibility is the number one complaint in the residents' survey about the fourteen weekend street closures; residents are waiting for council to take meaningful action.

The AODA 2025 leaves disabled residents facing daily, "soul-crushing barriers" found late Lieutenant Governor David Onley.

Mayor Prue said, "I have never seen any problem with access. My wife is the chair of the accessibility committee."

Deputy Mayor Gibb said, "to me, Open Air makes the downtown more accessible for people at least in wheelchairs."

Council passed Councillor Crain's motion to continue Open Air into 2026.
